NEW ORLEANS SYMPHONY TO BE HERE JAN. 28

Music lovers will have the opportunity to hear one of the country's leading instrumental ensembles when the New Orleans Symphony Orchestra presents a concert in the Gettysburg High School auditorium next January 28.

The orchestra, which was chosen in 1956 by the U.S. State Department to make a tour of Latin America, is being brought here by the Gettysburg Concert Association for one of the concerts in its current season's series.

Polish-born Alexander Hilsberg, for more than 20 years associated with the famed Philadelphia Orchestra, first as concert-master and later as associate conductor, is music director and conductor of the 87-member New Orleans organization.

Maestro Hilsberg headed the orchestral department at the Curtis Institute of Music in Philadelphia for a number of years. He became director of the New Orleans Orchestra in 1952, succeeding Massimo Freccia.

Substituted For Ormandy

Hilsberg emerged from the comparative obscurity of his associate conductorship one night in 1946 when the Philadelphia Orchestra was playing its New York series in Carnegie Hall. Conductor Eugene Ormandy was taken suddenly ill and Hilsberg was called to the podium. His performance that night won critical acclaim and produced many requests for his services as conductor.

In addition to a busy summer schedule which included concerts in the Robin Hood Dell, Philadelphia, and festivals at Worcester and Ann Arbor, Hilsberg was kept busy with regular season engagements. In a typical week in 1951 he conducted the NBC Symphony one day, his own Reading Symphony the next, the Philadelphia Orchestra which was playing in Worcester, Mass., the following night and returned to NBC again for its weekend concert.

GIRL SCOUTS AT HARRISBURG

More than 100 Catholic Girl Scouts and leaders from Adams County took part in the dedication ceremony held for Girl Scouts of the Harrisburg Diocese of the Catholic Church Sunday afternoon at St. Patrick's Cathedral, Harrisburg.

The Adams County units, from Gettysburg, Littlestown, Bonneauville and McSherrystown were in Division Four of the parade through the streets of Harrisburg preceding the service at the cathedral. With the number of scouts and leaders present in the thousands, all were unable to enter the church proper and some units were placed in basement rooms at the cathedral.

Mrs. George Eberhart and Miss Grace Myers of the Gettysburg units assisted in the formation of the fourth division of the parade.

Thirty-seven members of Intermediate Troop 7 and Senior Troop 78, sponsored by St. Francis Xavier Catholic Church here, took part in the program. They were accompanied by these leaders: Mrs. Jay Brown, Mrs. Romeo Capozzi, Mrs. John Lawrence, Miss Myers and Mrs. Eberhart.

The local group left St. Francis Xavier School here by bus Sunday afternoon at 12:15 o'clock and returned about 7 o'clock Sunday night.

3 Drivers Charged With Bad Passes

Three drivers who made or attempted bad passes on Route 15 in Cumberland Twp. over the weekend were charged by state police before Justice of the Peace John R. Whitman, Emmitsburg Rd.

One of the drivers, Ronald J. Karpovich, Washington, D. C., pleaded guilty when he was taken before the justice and paid a fine of $10 and the costs for overtaking and passing when he did not have a clear view of the roadway for a safe distance ahead.

The other drivers, who tried passes on curves, will get 10-day notices. They are Everett Addison Meadows, Kensington, Md., and Daniel C. Wine, Hershey.

SERVES ON CARGO SHIP

18 Killed On Derailed Train

BONN, Germany (AP) — A cog train carrying sightseers to the picturesque Drachenfels (Dragon's Rock) above the Rhine suddenly slipped from its cog Sunday night and plunged off the tracks, killing 18 persons and injuring 60 others.

The train was about an eighth of the way down its steep mile run from the top of the rock when it left the rails. The steam engine crashed into a ditch. Two cars careened off the tracks and the third remained on the right of way, its side ripped open.

This was the first accident on the railway in the 75 years it has carried more than a million persons to visit the ruined fortress 1,050 feet above the Rhine.

VFW AUXILIARY DISTRICT HOLDS ENCAMPMENT

The District Encampment of the Auxiliary to the Veterans of Foreign Wars, District 21, of Adams, York and Franklin Counties was held Sunday afternoon in the Red Lion High School cafeteria with Mrs. Mary Baker, East Berlin, district president, presiding.

Mrs. Ellen Swartz, York, department senior vice president, thanked the women for their support in electing her to her position. Mrs. Anna Seacrest, Red Lion, district senior vice president, reported on the Scotland School picnic held recently at Red Bridge Park for the children of the school who had no place to go during the summer months. Plans were discussed for the Christmas party at Scotland School.

Mrs. Geraldine Hamme, Mount Wolf, gave a report of the Field Day activities at the Coatesville Veterans Administration Hospital, Coatesville, on Labor Day. The district dance will be held at the hospital on October 17. Both men and women members of the VFW and friends are invited.

Fall Conference In October

The annual fall conference will be held on October 4 and 5 in the Penn. Harris Hotel, Harrisburg. A banquet will take place the evening of October 4 for which Mrs. Baker, banquet chairman, requested that all reservations be sent to her immediately.

Mrs. Ruth Koch, York, district musician, and Mrs. Christine Willis, Ebers, won the "Pigs In Pokes" during the meeting's recess.

Civil defense chairman of the district, Mrs. Ellen Arnold, Hanover, introduced Colonel Willard Crawford, civil defense chairman of York County, who spoke on the activities of his county. He said that Lancaster and York, plus two other Pennsylvania cities, are among the 92 critical cities in the United States. He also stressed the importance of CD for everyone.

Aldah McDannel, Meadville, department president, will be the special guest at the next district encampment which will be held in Chambersburg on December 14.

Attending Sunday's meeting from Gettysburg were Miss Ruth M. Miller, deputy chief of staff of Adams County; Miss Beulah Furney, Mrs. Erma Keefer, Mrs. Mary Fridinger, Mrs. Bernice Mattingly, and Mrs. Pearl Wiser, district chaplain.

TO OPEN BIDS

Cumberland Twp. supervisors will open bids Thursday night for two-course bituminous paving of the Peiffer Rd. from Rt. 30 to the Mummansburg Rd.

EDWARD CLINE, EX-RAILROADER, DIES SATURDAY

Edward R. Cline, 72, died suddenly Saturday night at 7:30 o'clock at his home, Gardner's R. 2, Dr. C. G. Crist, the Adams County coroner, said the death was caused by a coronary thrombosis.

A retired Reading railroad employee, Mr. Cline had been in his usual health Saturday evening and had gone to the kitchen of his home when he was suddenly stricken and died.

He was twice married. His first wife, who was Beulah Wampler, died in 1935. A son of the late William and Senora (McBeth) Cline, he was a native of Adams County and always resided in the county.

Faculty Dinner Is Held On Saturday

General Willard S. Paul, president of Gettysburg College, presided at the annual faculty dinner Saturday evening in the college dining hall on W. Lincoln Ave. Nearly 200 persons attended the informal affair to which wives and husbands of faculty members were invited.

New members of the faculty were introduced and they presented their wives or husbands.

In behalf of the faculty a corsage of roses was presented to Mrs. Paul by College Chaplain Edw. E. Korte.

Train Rams Through Open Bridge; Report 15 Killed

ELIZABETH, N.J. (AP) — A Jersey Central Railroad train hurtled 50 feet off a raised drawbridge into Newark Bay today.

First unconfirmed reports said the dead ranged from one to 15. Passengers were reported trapped in the only bay waters.

Two diesel locomotives leading the commuter train from Bay Head, N.J., to Jersey City roared off the bridge first. They dragged with them two passenger coaches.

A third coach dangled grotesquely at a 45-degree angle, like a torn fingernail. Two other coaches remained on the bridge.

Police and Coast Guard launches and helicopters swarmed over the bay, normally 35 feet deep at low tide. Skin divers also were rushed to the scene to aid in rescue efforts.

Ambulances were called in from all over the area. Bayonne Hospital said the injured were arriving too fast to count.

The Coast Guard rushed every available craft to the area as a mammoth rescue operation got under way. Two police launches from New York were dispatched.

A railroad spokesman said the train normally carries 90 to 100 passengers from the shore on a Monday morning.

It had just left Elizabethport for the Jersey City Terminal when it came to the 1,500-foot-long bridge.

"The bridge was up for some reason or other," a railroad spokesman said.

The bridge is a vertical lift type with a center section 120 to 150 feet long which is raised when ship traffic passes.

The Coast Guard said the water at the spot is 35 feet deep at low tide. The bay is a heavily used ship waterway.

150 COME HERE ON JAYCEES' FLY-IN SUNDAY

Fifty-seven planes brought 150 tourists into Gettysburg Airport for the annual "Fly-in" conducted by the local Junior Chamber of Commerce.

The breakfast and tour of the battlefield held by the Jaycees as part of the event proved "the most successful yet," according to Wesley Kriebel, general chairman.

While the tourists were looking over Gettysburg a number of coudians visited the field to view the airplanes of all types gathered there for the "fly-in" program.

Kriebel said one of the purposes of the activity is to encourage and promote aviation in the Gettysburg area as well as to promote interest of pilots in flights here.

Tour Field In Buses

Planes were from Waynesburg, Lock Haven, Oil City, Pittsburgh and the Philadelphia area. The pilots of the private planes, as well as the spectators present from this area, displayed interest in the flights of a helicopter based at the airport.

Two bus loads of the aviators toured the battlefield with local guides.

Local airplane operators and airport personnel joined the Jaycees in making arrangements for the event. Red and green lights were used to regulate the arrival and departure of planes during the day.

Twenty Jaycees and a number of their wives assisted in the preparation and serving of the breakfast, registration and other events connected with the program. Paul Reaver was chairman for the breakfast; Walter Fohl, chairman of parking and registration; Richard Yingling, activities and tour; Donald Becker, publicity; Carl Kessel and Carroll Spark Spena, refreshments and snack bar.

Air Reservists To Resume Meetings

Local units of Air Reservists will meet this evening for the first time in the current fiscal year under a new setup in which Flight B of the 9290th Air Reserve Squadron is divided into three classes. Classes 1 and 2 will meet this evening at 7:30 o'clock in the APROTC building on the Gettysburg College campus.

Captain Marvin L. Fox is the flight commander. Class 1, which covers an administrative and management course, is being instructed by First Lt. D. M. Bushman. Class 2 offers a leadership training course for non-commissioned officers under the instruction of M. Sgt. C. S. Thomas.

Summer uniforms are to be worn for this evening's meetings. All interested reservists are invited to attend.

Class 3 also is an NCO leadership training course. It will meet regularly in Hanover under the instruction of S. Sgt. R. L. Gephart.

Miss Ada Keckler Dies Sunday At 65

Miss Ada A. Keckler, 65, who formerly resided at 87 Steinwehr Ave., died Sunday evening at 8 o'clock in Harrisburg. She was a native of Cumberland Twp. and a daughter of the late William A. and Louisa A. (Patterson) Keckler. She had attended the Gettysburg public schools.

Surviving are a sister, Mrs. Marvin Bishop, Gettysburg R. 2.

Funeral services Wednesday at 10 a.m. at the Bender Funeral Home with the Rev. Ivan Naugle, pastor of the Salem EUB Church at Keedysville, Md., officiating. Interment in Evergreen Cemetery.

There will not be a viewing and the family has requested that flowers be omitted with the family suggesting memorial gifts to some charity instead.

GILBERT FOOD MARKET SOLD

R. Kenneth Poust, recently of Sebring, Fla., and formerly of Chambersburg, has bought the Gilbert Food Market at 45 S. Franklin St. here and took possession today.

The new owner will operate the business under the name of Kennies Market. He is a partner in a Chambersburg store under the same name. The same lines of food will be carried as were handled in the Gilbert store, Mrs. Poust said, but extra emphasis will be placed on the meat department with fresh-killed pork produce and country-cured hams to be featured. A partial self-service plan will be installed in the meat department.

The store is operating under new hours effective today. It will remain open each evening until 9 p.m. and on Friday and Saturday, evenings will stay open until 10 o'clock.

Mr. and Mrs. Poust and their four daughters, one of them under school age, are residing at 255 S. Howard Ave. Mr. Poust has been in the food business here for the last 35 years, said he has no business plans for the future.

IS 92 TODAY

Mark Gordon, Gettysburg R. 2, is celebrating his 94th birthday today.

LOCAL COUPLE WED SATURDAY; XAVIER CHURCH

The marriage of Miss Shirley Lee Cunningham, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Parker H. Cunningham, 633 Red Patch Ave., and Charles Joseph Todd, Gettysburg State Police barracks, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Todd, Philadelphia, were married Saturday at 2 p.m. in St. Francis Xavier Church. The double-ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. Fr. Neil Murphy.

The church altar was decorated with white mums. Miss Patricia Bushey, Fairfield Rd., sang "Panis Angelicus," "Ave Marie," and "The Lord's Prayer," accompanied by Mrs. George F. Eberhart, organist. The wedding music was by Carlo Rossini.

Bridal Gown

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor length white Chantilly lace gown over satin with a bouffant skirt that featured a center front panel and pleat of nylon tulle ending in a cathedral train trimmed with a nylon net ruffle. The bodice, which dipped to a point in the front and back centers, closed down the front with satin covered buttons. It was fashioned with a V-neckline and standup collar edged with nylon net ruffle. The long fitted sleeves terminated in points over the hands. Her fingertip veil of illusion edged with wide Chantilly lace was attached to a pearl tiara. She carried a white satin-covered Bible with a white orchid and streamers of tiny buds of carnations and chrysanthemums.

Miss Mary Louise Shriver, Gettysburg, was maid of honor.

WEIGAND TO GIVE "KICKOFF" TALK

Ray Weigand, chief scout executive of the York-Adams Area Council of the Boy Scouts of America, was announced today as the speaker at the annual Gettysburg Community Chest Joint service club dinner meeting October 6 at 6 p.m. at the Gettysburg High School cafeteria.

Richard E. Bruce, assistant finance drive chairman for the Community Chest, said that immediately following the dinner those attending will canvass the residential areas of the town to make the annual collection for Community Chest.

Bruce said it is hoped that those participating as canvassers will be able to complete the majority of their solicitation October 6. Call-backs are to be made between October 6 and 11. A "cleanup" crew will be selected to begin making the final calls starting October 13.

Approximately 250 are expected for the dinner marking the opening of the residential area canvass.

October 6. Among organizations scheduled to participate are the Lions, Exchange, Kiwanis, Rotary, Optimists, Soroptimists, Junior Chamber of Commerce, YWCA, Alpha Phi Omega fraternity, Girl Scouts, Boy Scouts, Red Cross, Civic Nursing Association and Library.

Bruce asked that he be informed of the persons planning to attend by September 22 so arrangements can be made for the number of meals to be served.

HUBCAPS STOLEN

Harold Culp, Hanover St., operator of a parking lot behind Hotel Gettysburg, reported to borough police two spinner-type hubcaps were stolen Friday night from a car owned by Leonard Miller, Plattsburgh, N. Y.; and four spinner hubcaps were removed from an Ohio state car. Local authorities are investigating.

Little Rock Is Quiet As Faubus Closes Central High

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — A few spectators gathered near Central High School in Little Rock today shortly before the hour when the school normally would have opened. Police radio cars began circling the grounds.

Automobiles carrying both whites and Negroes cruised slowly in front of the school.

There were no disturbances.

The school, scene of rioting that brought paratroops to Little Rock last year, remained closed on orders of Gov. Orval E. Faubus.

A group of white girls, in gymnasium uniforms, went into the school. They told reporters they were not going to attend classes. They are drum majorettes, they said, practicing for appearances at the football games.

Special armed guards, employed by the School Board, were on duty at the school. U.S. marshals, also in cars, appeared from time to time but stayed in cars.

State troopers, also armed, came on duty at Faubus' official residence.

A reporter who passed through the gate and approached the mansion was ordered to leave.

The areas around the city's other three senior high schools were quiet.

Rain spattered the streets at intervals.

Mrs. L. C. Bates, regional director of the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People had said previously she did not intend to bring seven Negro pupils to Central High in the formal-ity of trying to enroll.

Reports persisted today that the Department of Justice is preparing some legal action against Faubus.

Close Virginia School

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — The closed doors of Warren County High School symbolized today the intensity of Virginia's battle to prevent race mixing in the public schools.

Under the state's anti-integration laws, Gov. J. Lindsay Almond Jr. took control of the county's only high school, a white facility. And 1,045 students looked for ways to keep occupied until the crisis is resolved.

Other localities — chief among them Charlottesville and Arlington — face possible school closings this week.

Dr. Heim To Talk At Baltimore Rally

Dr. Ralph D. Heim, Seminary Campus, will be the speaker this evening at a fall workers' rally at the Ascension Lutheran Church, Baltimore. The pastor is the Rev. Dr. Oscar W. Carlson and his assistant is the Rev. John A. McGuigan. Dr. Heim's topic will be "Our Church School In World Perspective." It will be illustrated with slides taken by Dr. Heim on his recent trip around the world.

Dr. Heim will address a community rally in Rockville, Md., Sunday night, September 21, on the same subject.

MISS BOWERS, M. E. BECKER ARE WED ON SUNDAY

Miss Gloria Maxine Bowers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul H. Bowers, 202 N. Queen St., Littlestown, and Merle Earl Becker, son of Mrs. Mabel V. Becker, 1240 Broadway, Hanover, and the late John C. Becker, were united in marriage on Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock in St. John's Lutheran Church, Littlestown. The double-ring ceremony was performed by the pastor, the Rev. W. C. Karns.

Mrs. Jay D. Basehor, church organist, played the traditional wedding marches and presented a recital prior to the ceremony. She was also accompanist for the soloist, Mrs. Edgar E. Yealy, Littlestown. The church was decorated with bouquets of white gladioli and potted palms.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was attired in a long white gown of imported Swiss embroidered organdy. It was fashioned with a Sabrina neckline, long tapered sleeves and a basque waistline and featured ruffles down the front of the skirt. The bouffant skirt ended in a chapel length train. Her finger tip veil of silk illusion fell from a cap of matching organdy trimmed with iridescent sequins and seed pearls. She carried a bouquet of white roses and pom-poms.

To Live In Hanover

Mrs. Paul E. Bowers, Chambersburg, sister-in-law of the bride, was matron of honor, and wore a ballerina-length gown of pink nylon net. She carried a bouquet of pink (Continued On Page 3)

SENT TO JAIL FOR 45 DAYS ON TWO CHARGES

James R. Henry, 23, 317 York St., was sentenced to 45 days in the county jail and ordered to pay a fine of $50 and costs in two cases after appearing before the Adams County Court this morning.

Henry had been charged with driving while under the influence of intoxicants and driving while his license was suspended. He was given a 30-day sentence plus a fine of $50 and the cost on the drunken driving charge. He was sentenced to 15 days in jail and ordered to pay the costs on the driving during suspension charge. The jail terms are to run consecutively.

Kyle Gene Hatcher, Cashtown, charged with larceny, was given a suspended sentence, placed on probation for one year and ordered to pay the costs.

Beamer Pays Costs

Berman Beamer, Aspers R. 1, and Harold E. Swope, Gettysburg, were scheduled to appear in court this morning in connection with payment of costs on a charge of assault and battery brought by Swope against Beamer. The jury found Beamer innocent and divided the costs between the two men. In court this morning it was reported Beamer had paid his $41 costs. Swope was given to Saturday to pay his amount.

Curtis W. Hennig, Gettysburg, in arrears on a support order, was directed to pay $15 per week, $10 per week on the original order and $5 per week additional until the arrearage and costs are paid.

ANNIVERSARY IS MARKED SUNDAY AT ROCK CHAPEL

The 185th anniversary of the Rock Chapel Methodist Church was observed Sunday afternoon. The Rev. Belmont Metzger, pastor of the Dillsburg and Wellsville Methodist Churches, was the guest speaker. His topic was "Building With God."

The annual service is customarily held on the second Sunday in September.

Music played on the church's old record organ by Miss Linda Hinkle before the services included "Abide With Me," "The Old Rugged Cross," and "Little Brown Church in the Vale." Miss Hinkle is the granddaughter of Mrs. Rachel Gochenauer, one of the few living members of the Rock Chapel Methodist Church.

Miss Janet Bittinger, organist of the York Springs Methodist Church, was the guest organist. The Senior Choir of the York Springs Church, under the direction of Mrs. Robert Rhoades, sang.

About 140 members, former members of the church and Sunday School, friends and members of the Adams County Historical Society attended the services, some coming from Norristown, Harrisburg, Dillsburg, Wellsville, Wrensville, Mechanicsburg and Carlisle, as well as from county points.

Rock Chapel is the second oldest Methodist Church in Pennsylvania and the oldest west of the Susquehanna River. Most of the original furnishings have been retained. The Rev. Amos Meyers, pastor of the York Springs, New Oxford and Hunterstown Charge, is pastor of the chapel.

Youth Hurt When Hit By Car Sunday

Joseph Harpster, 2-year-old son of Mrs. Josephine Harpster, 119 W. Middle St., suffered head and hip bruises when he was struck by a car driven by Gilbert L. Davidson, Upperco, Md., at 12:30 p.m. Sunday on W. Middle St., borough police said.

Davidson told police after stopping for the traffic light at the intersection of Middle and Washington Sts. he had just crossed the intersection when the Harpster youth darted from the south side to the north side of W. Middle St. and the left front bumper of his car knocked the child to the roadway.

Julius Swope, a passerby, took the youth to the hospital where the child was admitted.

The child is reported "doing alright." X-rays have been taken. He also received cuts of the face, doctors report.

AMBULANCE CORPS TO MEET

A meeting of all members of the ambulance corps of the Gettysburg Fire Department will be held this evening at 7:30 o'clock at the engine house. Firemen who may wish to join the corps are also asked to be present.

Littlestown FIRST FALL PTA MEETING TO BE HELD TUESDAY

"Orientation for the School Year" will be the program theme for the first fall meeting of the Littlestown Joint Parent Teachers' Association at 8 o'clock on Tuesday evening in the general purpose room of the Rolling Acres Elementary School. "ROSH HASHANA WISH"

For those of Jewish faith this time... begins another year... and as I've done in days gone by... I send them thoughts sincere... may they enjoy a lasting peace... of heart as well as mind... peace is a priceless treasure... sought by all mankind... may all their days be filled with love... and mountains of good will... for both of these fashion the strength... needed to climb life's hill... God grant them faith to carry on... in face of grief and trial... theirs is a very rocky road... each step a rugged mile... I write this verse with fondest hope... that life for them will be... filled up to the brim with things... that form brotherhood's key... this is my Rosh Hashana wish... may all of you who read... love thy neighbor as thyself... this is the world's great need.

Hold Harvest Home
The annual Harvest Home service was held on Sunday morning in Redeemer's United Church of Christ. The church was decorated with flowers and greenery and the donations will be sent to the Homewood Church for the Aged and the Hoffman Orphanage. The Harvest Home envelopes were received for Homewood. The Senior Choir sang the anthem "The Heavens Are Telling." The pastor, the Rev. Glenn Flinchbaugh, delivered a junior sermon and the Harvest Home sermon. The minister will bring a junior sermon on the second Sunday of each month. Flowers were placed in the church in memory of Mrs. Carl F. Herman, and Harry L. Cratin. During the service, nursery care was provided by Mrs. William Warner and Mrs. Louisa Currens.

Redeemer's preparatory service will be conducted on Sunday Sept. 28, at 10:30 a.m.; Holy Communion services will be conducted on Sunday, October 5. The Junior Choir will meet this Thursday from 6:30 to 8:30 p.m. for a rehearsal and social; the Senior Choir will rehearse at 7:30 p.m. on Thursday. During the worship service yesterday in Redeemer's Church, the Rev. Mr. Flinchbaugh baptized Karl Curtis Hensel, infant son of Robert B. and JoAnn (Weiler) Hensel, Bethlehem. The child was born in July, 1958 in Bethlehem. The parents were the baptismal sponsors.

Littlestown 17 GIRL SCOUTS OF TROOP 12 AT SUNDAY EVENT

Girl Scouts of Troop 12, Miss Mary Rita Redding, leader, and Catholic Scouts of other local troops who attended the first annual dedication of Catholic Girl Scouts in St. Patrick's Cathedral, Harrisburg, on Sunday afternoon as one unit of approximately 135 among nearly 3,000 Scouts and leaders, were Joyce Hymiller and Suzanne Weaver, flag bearers, Anna Louise Krichen, Margaret Mary Altoff, Patricia Stuller, Sally Busby, Suzanne Stuller, Linda Staub, Susan Ooster, Susan Collins, Carol Stuller, Marianne Rudisill, Faith Redding, Alice Redding, Hope Sentz, Camilla Sentz, and Nancy Harner.

Accompanying the girls in the parade were Miss Redding and Mrs. Paul E. Altoff, committee member of Troop 45. Also attending the dedication ceremony from town were Mr. and Mrs. John Rudisill, Mrs. Floyd F. Weaver, Miss Naomi Sanders. The adults mentioned provided transportation.

5-Division Parade
The parade preceding the dedication ceremony was in five divisions with the Banner Troop, made up of those Girl Scouts who received the Marian Award, and the Bishop McDevitt High School Band comprising the first division. Each division was headed by the massed colors of the troops of the division. The front of the cathedral rectory was reserved for His Excellency, the Most Rev. George L. Leech, bishop of Harrisburg; his attendants; Commander Helen Bunty, York, president of the Harrisburg Diocesan Council of Catholic Women, and other diocesan officials, to view the parade.

The service of dedication began with the blessing of the massed colors by Bishop Leech; "Mother Dear O Pray For Me," assembly; "Veni Creator," choir; sermon which concerned the life of St. Marie Goretti, a 12-year-old girl when she died; the blessing and presentation of the Marian Award medals to the Girl Scouts of all troops in the diocese who earned them, approximately 100 in number; recitation of the Girl Scout Laws and Promise and Act of Consecration to Our Lady; "To Jesus Heart All Burning," assembly; remarks by the bishop who expressed his happiness at the "no standing room" crowd and thanked all those who assisted with the arrangements.

Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament and the singing of "Holy God We Praise Thy Name," and "The Star Spangled Banner," concluded the ceremony. The flag bearers formed a guard of honor down the middle aisle, with the colors, while the bishop left the sanctuary.

WILL TRY TWO FOR BRIBERY

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Two men face hearings Wednesday on charges of trying to pay off a juror in a bribery trial.

Charged with attempting to influence a juror are Thomas Neils, 52, a Turtle Creek tavern owner, and Joseph Volpe, 43, a Wilmering resident whose three brothers were shot to death in a Pittsburgh coffee shop in 1932.

Police said Neils admitted offering $300 to his cousin, Mrs. Margaret R. Maurer of Wilmering, if she would vote for acquittal in the trial of Henry Katz and Chester Stupak on charges of bribing Patrolman John James.

Officers said Mrs. Maurer reported the incident Saturday several hours before Katz and Stupak were acquitted. Police quoted Neils as saying Volpe asked him to offer the money to Mrs. Maurer.

Volpe, according to police, neither denied nor admitted the charges and gave only his name, age and address.

James' mother, Mrs. Catherine James, reported she received an anonymous phone call, warning her that John and her other policeman son, Herbert, "are going to get blown up."

Two Die, Four Hurt In Three Car Crash

PROSPECT PARK, Pa. (AP)—A three-car crash at an intersection in Ridley Township killed two Delaware County men Sunday and injured four others, two seriously.

The dead men were S. R. Boyer, 29, of Colwyn, and James Bell, 33, of Secane. Boyer was killed instantly and Bell died soon after admission to Taylor Memorial Hospital.

Reported in serious condition from head injuries were Harry Miller, 28, of Springfield, owner of the car in which Bell was riding, and Mrs. Joan Walsh, 34, of Colwyn, who was riding with Boyer.

Brownie Troop 62 will hold its first meeting of the season Friday afternoon at 3:45 o'clock in the St. James Lutheran Church Scout room. The following new members will be enrolled: Cynthia Currens, Carolyn Walborn, and Nancy Watson. Mrs. Harold Blanchard and Mrs. Louis Brady are the leaders.

Brownie Troop 24 will hold their first meeting of the year Tuesday evening at 7 o'clock in the Cash-town Community fire hall. All girls between the ages of seven and 14 are invited.

Mrs. Charles Heyser Jr. and Mrs. William Stansbury are the Brownie leaders. Intermediate troop leaders are Mrs. Dorsey Shultz and Mrs. Ross White.

SCOTT-LEADER DEBATE TONIGHT

HARRISBURG (AP)—Gov. Leader and his Republican opponent for the U. S. Senate, Rep. Hugh Scott, today readied their arguments for a face-to-face debate on election campaign issues. The half-hour televised debate will be broadcast at 9:30 p.m. over WTPA, Harrisburg.

The two candidates agreed to the debate, the time and the place, Sunday after a week of exchanges between them.

In his challenge to Scott, Leader said he wanted to limit the discussion to one issue—the recession.

Scott refused to limit the debate on grounds "all issues are vital."

"Let's not hide our views on any of them," he added.

The governor commented Sunday in announcing his agreement to meet Scott that on all major issues he has outlined specific recommendations, adding "I intend to lay the facts on the line, as I have done in the past."

A & P WORKERS ACCEPT TERMS

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea Co. food stores in parts of three states were ready for business today following settlement of a strike of 5,000 employees.

The workers, members of Amalgamated Food Employees Local 590, voted overwhelmingly over the weekend to accept a new one-year contract and end their three-day walkout.

Male employees of 209 A. & P. stores in parts of Western Pennsylvania, Ohio and West Virginia will receive an additional 14-cent hourly, female employees 12-cent.

Clifton Caldwell, president of Local 590, said the union dropped demands for pension revisions in return for a short contract. The firm originally proposed a three-year agreement.

Caldwell said the union found pension improvements too big a stumbling block at this time, but added a special committee would be created to study the pension program.

The union leader said A. & P. employees would receive an average of $86.60 weekly under the new contract, compared with about $81-a-week previously.

Employees of the firm's Pittsburgh and Youngstown, Ohio divisions ratified the new pact Saturday. Altoona division members followed suit Sunday.

Accountants Will Meet Wednesday

The Gettysburg-Biglerville area will be represented at the first meeting of the 1958-59 season in the program of the York Chapter of the National Association of Accountants.

Milwaukee Loses To Dodgers As Pirates Take Two From Chicago To Stay Alive In NL Flag Race

By JACK HAND

The Pirates simply refuse to walk the plank. Six down with only nine games to play, Pittsburgh will not concede to the Milwaukee Braves.

Bob Friend, top winner in the National League, posted his 21st victory for Pittsburgh Sunday in the second game against Chicago 6-2 after Ted Kluszewski's sacrifice fly had won the first game 5-4.

Milwaukee lost to Los Angeles 5-3 on a two-run homer by Don Demeter. As a result of the defeat and the Pirates' double success, the Braves' lead was cut to six games. They still need any combination of five victories or Pittsburgh defeats to nail down those series checks.

Sam Jones Beats Phils

Joe Cunningham, filling in for Stan Musial at first base, hit two home runs against Philadelphia as St. Louis racked up a 6-3 decision from Sam Jones. The strikeout leader of the majors fanned six, boosting his season total to 212 while winning his 13th.

Willie Mays came to life in the second game at Cincinnati with a double and three singles in San Francisco's second game 6-4 victory. Bob Purkey won his 17th for Cincinnati in the opener 4-3.

Richie Ashburn of the Phils boosted his average to .342 with three hits in five trips against the Cards to widen his lead over Stan Musial in the National League batting race.

Friend All The Way

Friend went all the way for the Pirates in their second game with the Cubs, pitching a six-hitter. Bill Mazeroski set a Pirate record for homers by a second baseman with 19 and Bob Skinner lashed No. 13.

Chuck Tanner's three-run homer helped the Cubs tie the first game in the fifth inning but Kluszewski's sacrifice fly after a single by Frank Thomas, a double by Dick Groat and a walk to Bill Hall won the game in the sixth.

Demeter's home run at Milwaukee climaxed a three-run rally against Juan Pizarro. All the runs were unearned after an error by Johnny Logan. Johnny Klippstein, who relieved Don Drysdale after five innings, was the winner.

Jones needed help in the ninth at Philadelphia, where Chuck Stobbs came in with the bases loaded. Jim Brosnan finally shut off the threat. Despite the hitting of Ashburn and rookie Pancho Herrera, who had four hits, Jack Sanford dropped his 13th.

Purkey allowed 10 hits while beating the Giants in five trips. Willie got even in the second with four hits and Orlando Cepeda added three to whip Don Newcombe. Ramon Montañez was the winner with aid from Marv Grissom and Mike McCormick.

TOMMY JACOBS DENVER WINNER

DENVER (AP) — It's taken Tommy Jacobs 14 months to notch his first professional golf victory, but now look at The skinny youngster from Whittier, Calif., says he's ready.

"I learned a few things in that one," said 23-year-old Tommy Sunday after adding down $2,800 first place prize in the $20,000 Denver Centennial Open Tourney. The leader throughout, the rookie shot his third straight 3-under par 67 for a 72-hole total of 266.

Tops Vassler

That was one stroke better than Ernie Vossler of Midland, Tex., who finished with a flurry over the 6,642-yard Welshair Municipal Course.

Jacobs had a habit of starting fast in his tourney since joining the circuit in June of last year. But this marks the first one in which he's led past the halfway mark.

"Get tough and stay tough," said the smiling winner, who won only $76 the week before in the Utah Open. He now has won $11,400 for the year.

Vossler won $1,000. In third was Howie Johnson of Glenwood, Ill., with a 270 and $1,300.

Kentucky Wildcats Beat Hawaii 51-0

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — The University of Kentucky Wildcats have finally ended a seven-year jinx—thanks largely to the efforts of a speedy youngster named Calvin Bird.

Bird, a sophomore half back from Corbin, Ky., helped spark the Cats to a 51-0 victory over the University of Hawaii Rainbows Saturday night. He scored four touchdowns.

The win over Hawaii was the first opening game victory for Kentucky since 1951.

BILLY HERMAN GETS CREDIT FOR L. A. VICTORIES

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Wonder why the Los Angeles Dodgers have taken 14 of 21 games from the defending champion Milwaukee Braves this season?

Scrapy Don Zimmer of the Dodgers says it's because of being called prima donnas by Braves' Coach Billy Herman, an ex-Dodger, during spring training.

Some of the Braves' players admit privately that Zimmer may be right.

"We Didn't Forget"

Herman, a coach with the then Brooklyn Dodgers from 1952-57, was quoted as saying several Dodgers were lazy, complacent and prima donnas.

He did not mention any names, but later said he did not mean PeeWee Reese, Gil Hodges or Carl Furillo.

After the fifth-place Dodgers' 5-3 victory Sunday, Zimmer said Herman's remarks were "the whole story" behind L. A.'s fine showing against Milwaukee.

"The other guys might not say anything about it," Zimmer said, "but they feel the same way I do. We talked about it in spring training. We didn't say any more about it, but we didn't forget."

HAAS PLEASED WITH BULLETS IN SCRIMMAGE

Although the Gettysburg College football squad "lost" a 12-0 scrimmage session to George Washington University here Saturday afternoon, Bullet member Gene Haas was quite pleased with his outfit.

He stated after the workout his squad could be as good or better than last year's aggregation which had a 7-1-1 record.

Several hundred students and fans watched the brisk workout which saw the Colonials score twice in the last half, one on a 25-yard pass, and the other on a two-yard plunge.

Haas was particularly pleased with the showing of Ed Books, quarterback; Dick Davidkov, fullback; and Marty Hoffman, tackle. On the line Haas singled out Jules Prevost and Carl Shoenborn, guards, and Dave Yohn, center, as good performers. A number of sophomores also looked good.

The Bullets will open their season Saturday evening, September 27, with Bucknell in a Middle Atlantic Conference game in the Hershey Stadium.

Presidential Messages

AS ST. Joseph College approaches the venerable age of 150 years, it gives me pleasure in the name of the administration to welcome faculty and students to our campus.

Birthdays are occasions for reappraisals. What has St. Joseph's stood for over the years? Are we, its faculty and students, achieving its objectives? Saint Joseph College has, since the days of our venerated Foundress, Mother Elizabeth Ann Seton, committed itself to the formation of the thoroughly Christian woman, aware of her spiritual, moral, physical and social responsibilities.

This primary objective of our college is in accord with the pronouncements of our Holy Father Pius XII. His Holiness has drawn attention to the imperative needs in today's education. He has said that in an age of technology men and women stand most in need of "that consistent and uniform education based on absolute truth and on God as the center of existence." We look to you, our faculty, to inspire our students with this ideal by fulfilling your mission as "educators of the spirit, molders of souls, dedicated, shunning no sacrifice, putting aside personal gain."

On your part, students of St. Joseph College, realize that the mission of the Catholic woman of today is an apostolic one. A bewildered civilization must be shown the right road. Erroneous principles and ideas must be corrected. Your obligation cannot be taken lightly, nor will you succeed in this obligation unless you develop your intellectual and spiritual faculties to the highest possible degree. Apostolic action will be fruitful only insofar as you have learned and made a part of your thinking the fundamental principles of philosophy and theology. Be most serious in applying yourself to your studies and in living the faith with which you have been endowed by God. Then only will you fulfill your mission of "restoring all things in Christ." How can you save others if you do not bring Christ to them? How can you bring others to Christ if you do not possess Him yourself?

Sister Hilda

President
Saint Joseph College
Emmitsburg, Maryland

THE activities of the past year have proven that the value set on trained minds is rising. Indeed, in the conditions of modern life, it is frightfully apparent that the nation which does not value trained intelligence is doomed.

Of the more than 800 applications which Mount St. Mary's College processed for the current year, only two hundred and ten students were selected . . . only a fourth of the total number. Each student, then, has an obligation to be worthy of the choice the college has made. It is not only a personal responsibility, but one he owes the nation as well. For it is on young men properly schooled to meet the challenges of a satellite age that our nation depends. Indeed, we may say on you the free world relies . . . just as the enslaved world does also. For if we are to remain free and they are to be made free, men such as you must measure up to the tasks ahead.

There is no place any longer in our schools for the loafer or the playboy. There is, as a matter of fact, no place for mediocrity. Too many young people of talent and desire are clamoring for admittance to our colleges to waste our facilities on the lazy and the inadequate.

You will not learn here at Mount St. Mary's all you need for the future . . . not even all you need to be engineers or doctors, or teachers or farmers or accountants. But you should learn how to think properly and this is the sound foundation of everything else. You will learn how to explore and probe and investigate. You must take care that your desire for learning grows ever stronger, putting aside the pat answers of the quiz show to pursue the truth wherever the chase may lead you.

Your opportunities lie before you. Make the most of them.

MOUNT GLEEMEN LOOK FORWARD TO NEW SEASON

The Mount St. Mary's College Glee Club, under the direction of the Rev. David W. Shaum, A.M., had its finest year in 1956 when it presented special music for the three noteworthy sesquicentennial convocations as well as for Monsignor Sheridan's first duties as a prothonotary apostolic.

Highpoint of the year was, perhaps, the choristers' appearance before President and Mrs. Eisenhower when they sang two familiar West Point tunes that had the President and the First Lady beaming with delight.

Almost intact for the current year, the Glee Club should be better than ever. It should have more experience and perhaps more voices than ever before. The veterans should have poise after the past year's rugged schedule and the high praise which ranked them as the best chorus in Mountaineer history should be repeated during the coming year.

Sing With Symphony

Fr. Shaum has already lifted the level of performance. This year on Feb. 11 the choristers will sing in Memorial gymnasium with the famed Baltimore Symphony. It will make the usual tour and appear again on TV in the local area.

The highlight of the fall semester is always the Christmas concert, which this year will be held on Dec. 7, earlier than usual because of the Christmas holiday vacation.

Prospective gleemen should get their hands on one of the fine records the chorus cut last year. And they had better resign themselves to punishing rehearsals, for Fr. Shaum, a perfectionist himself, is a demanding taskmaster.

But the results are well worth the labor and the Glee Club is winning new praise for the college all through the East. Undoubtedly Fr. Shaum will have new ventures afoot as he continues the progressive programming which is taking the Glee Club farther afield each year.

Valley Home Weekend Planned For Oct. 10

Valley Home Weekend, traditional open house weekend for parents of St. Joseph College students, will open Friday, Oct. 10, with the academic investiture of the members of the freshman class. This ceremony will take place in the college chapel at 7:30 p.m.

Other events planned for this weekend include the Harvest Tea at which faculty members form the receiving line; the Father-Daughter Dance Saturday evening; Mass on Sunday, followed by brunch, at which a guest speaker will address the parents and students. The activities are climaxed Sunday afternoon when the traditional capping ceremony for the sophomore student nurses takes place in the college chapel.

Sophomore nursing students from the area who will receive their caps in October are Barbara Ann Redding, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard F. Redding, Johns Ave., Gettysburg, and Alice Scott, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph H. Scott, Emmitsburg.

Reading Course Aids Mount Undergraduate

Five years ago the Guidance Department of Mount St. Mary's College under the direction of the Rev. Dr. Joseph B. Tremonti C.S.V., began offering a corrective and speed reading program. Analysis of five years of progress indicates that the students taking the reading course have improved 100 per cent in speed and approximately 25 per cent in comprehension after completing twenty hours of instruction.

The course is offered for students who demonstrate a need for assistance in vocabulary building speed in reading and comprehension. These students are arranged in sections grouping together those who show like needs. To facilitate instruction special testing, explanation of the learning process, various techniques of learning, controlled and uncontrolled reading exercises, and tachistoscopic training are employed. The aim of this program is to increase reading skill, to stimulate greater interest in reading, and to make the individual a more alert and responsive reader.

A second course in speed read-

JOE SULLIVAN WITH PROS

Coach Buddy Jeannette of the newly organized Baltimore team in the Eastern basketball league has announced the signing of Joe Sullivan, one of last year's workhorses on Jim Phelan's cage team at Mount St. Mary's. Sullivan is entering Georgetown Law School and will play weekends with the team. He is the brother of the Mount's fabulous Jack Sullivan, who this year will return to the Mount floor as a member of the Quantico Marine team.

Saint Joseph Faculty Hears Loyola Teacher

Preceding the opening of the college, faculty members of Saint Joseph's met on September 13. The afternoon meetings opened with a message from Sister Hilda, Ed. M., president, at 2:30. The principal address followed immediately when Edward V. Daubner, M.A., of the Department of Education, Loyola University, Baltimore, spoke to the group on the subject "Recognizing the Gifted Student in the College Classroom." Mr. Daubner's thesis was that, because of the lack of understanding and recognition of the gifted student, much talent in this country has been lost to church and state. Discussion of the topic followed the address.

Heads of the various divisions in the college called a meeting of division members at 4 o'clock. At these meetings plans were discussed for projects for the year proposed by department chairmen.

At 5 o'clock faculty members and their husbands and wives were guests of the college at supper served in the Log Cabin at Tom's Creek.

TIERNY HONOR SOCIETY

The Monsignor Tierney Honor Society was authorized Nov. 24, 1933. Membership in it is one of the most coveted honors awarded an undergraduate.

Thomas Jefferson and his wife, Martha Skelton, were parents of six children. Four died in infancy.

St. Joseph College Opens 150th Year With Largest Enrollment In History

425 Students Begin College Career At St. Joseph's At Traditional Opening Mass

Although freshmen arrived on campus Sept. 10 for registration and orientation, classes at St. Joseph College officially begin on Sept. 16. The traditional Mass of the Holy Ghost will be sung Wednesday morning at 8 o'clock in the college chapel.

The college will begin its 150th year with the largest enrollment in its history, 425 students of which 150 are new students. New teachers added to the staff are Dr. Gilbert Oddo, who will serve as acting chairman of the Department of Social Studies; Dr. Joseph A. Solomon, associate professor of chemistry; and Rev. Fr. Ladislaus Iranyi, lecturer in religion and philosophy.

Maryland Students

Maryland and New Jersey rank first in freshman enrollment. From Maryland come Mary Elizabeth Sewell, Emmitsburg; Mary Phyllis Scilla, Thurmont; Helen Collins, Linda Howlin, Elisabeth Pope and Joan Sullivan, all of Silver Spring; Catherine Dignan, Patricia Hopkins, Anne Kerr, Carol Rossmann, Baltimore; Kathleen Driscoll and Katharine Eckloff, Bethesda; Hilda Diller, Kensington; Catherine Finnegan, Catonsville; Carol Johnson, Laurel; Kathleen Keane, Hyattsville; Virginia Novier, Baldwin; Marybelle Page, Adamstown; Jane Price, Lutherville, and Anita Lloyd, Edmonston.

New Jersey's contribution to the freshman class include Jane August, Paterson; Ann Marie Cantalupo, Belleville; Ann Chimel, Roselle Park; Carol Fritz, Dover; Catharine Garbaccio, Upper Merion; Gail Hausmann and Janice Jaeger, Leonia; Mary Homish, South Orange; Mary Jackel, Hawthorne; Beatrice Jandrisvits, Metuchen; Barbara Ketterer, Trenton; Marilyn Lamb, East Orange; Virginia Lardner, Nutley; Patricia Lynch, Iselin; Mary Jane Marta, Highland Park; Maureen Monks, West Orange; Beatrice Mullen, Edgewater; Catherine Schmid, Neptune; Kathleen Seely, Jersey City, and Maureen Sempie, Morristown.

Pennsylvanians Listed

Emily Rosensteel will matriculate from Gettysburg. Other Pennsylvanians will be Sandra Bartoli, Carlisle; Kathleen Carroll and Mary Hostler, Pittsburgh; Mary Catherine Fulcher and Mary Maloney, State College; Judith Bach, Philadelphia; Ann Marie Bigler, Pottsville; May Carr, Glenside; Ann Distelhorst, Sinking Spring; Eleanor Hammond, Lima; Dianne Haver, Harrisburg; Janice Nawrocky, Camp Hill; Mary Lane Johnson, Carnegie; Joy-Ann Knapik, Shamokin; Rosemary Murphy, Norwood; Patricia Ryan, Greenville; Eileen Senderak, Bethlehem; and Vivian Wojcik, Horsham.

Coming from Virginia are Carol Biley, Barbara Gilmore, and Ann Meaneher, Richmond; Frances Cullinan, Susan Kirch, and Mary Margaret Phillips, Arlington; Ann Delaney and Sheila Sheehan, Alexandria; Edwina DeSomma, Annandale, and Marie Eckstein, Lynchburg.

New England Students

The New England states send Helen Barkauskas, Waterbury, Conn.; Philomena Liscio, New Haven, Conn.; Denise Lamoureux, Marlboro, Mass., and Julia Lawler, Burlington, Vt.

A single representative comes from the following cities: Roberta Fenn, Washington, D. C.; Mary Legendre, Winston-Salem, N. C.; and Ann Marie Gable, Detroit, Mich.

Foreign country students include Phyllis Sanchez Mayaguez, P. R.; Carmen Santiago Vela, Bayamon, P. R.; Elsa Hossen, Trinidad, Bolivia, S. A.; Catherine D'Orsa, Naples, Italy; Carol Vessel, Heidelberg, Germany, and Mathilde Zambaka, Teheran, Iran.

Matriculating with advanced class standing are Sister Lea Marie Andrews, S.S.C.M., Danville, Pa.; Mary Lee Johnson, Lynchburg, Va.; Alice Bartlett, Cumberland, Md., and Moraima Riollano, Isabela, P. R.

BUSY PROGRAM FEATURED SJC ORIENTATION

Marie DeSando, president of the Children of Mary, and Kathleen Stapleton, president of the Cooperative Government Association of St. Joseph College, were co-chairmen of the freshman orientation program which extended from September 10 through 17.

Arriving on campus September 10, the freshmen and their parents were greeted in the Student Center by the faculty and student orientation committee at an Open House, sponsored by the local chapter of the alumnae association. In the evening the incoming students were welcomed by the orientation committee at an informal gathering in the Student Center.

Freshmen registration took place on Thursday morning. In the early afternoon Sister Mary Ellen, dean of students, met with the new students. The entire faculty gathered in the student center in the evening for a "Meet the Faculty" social.

Friday's program combined testing, classes, a convocation with the dean of studies, and social activities. Late in the afternoon the students toured the campus, following which they had supper and entertainment at Tom's Creek. During the evening there was a swimming party, followed by open house in the student center.

Testing continued on Saturday morning, while the afternoon was devoted to a visit to Mount Saint Mary's Lourdes Grotto and the Gettysburg National Military Park. Dinner in Gettysburg followed the tour.

Sunday featured a Children of Mary meeting, followed by a pilgrimage to the shrines of Mother Seton. The executive board of the Cooperative Government Association met with the freshmen at 1:30 p.m., and an open house for the freshmen of Mt. Saint Mary's and Saint Joseph was held at 5 p.m., followed by a buffet supper and Benediction of the Most Blessed Sacrament.

The first three days of this week will include, in addition to regular classes, a meeting with the Rev. Robert R. Kline, college chaplain; club orientation, a convocation with the college president, Sister Hilda; a meeting with the "Big Sisters" of the freshmen, and finally the upperclassmen welcome to the freshmen.

The Misses Theresa Rybikowsky and Mary Jane Scott, both of Emmitsburg, Md., were members of the orientation committee.

BASKETBALL OPENER

The Flynn Hall gymnasium, in its day the finest in the East, was begun in 1901, opened in 1903, and used for basketball first on Jan. 13, 1910, when the Mountaineers lost to Manhattan 26-18.

SJC Graduates Now Eligible For AAUW

Saint Joseph College received during the summer official notification that the college has been placed on the list of institutions providing membership eligibility in the American Association of University Women.

During the past winter, Dr. Eleanor P. Dolan, higher education associate of the association, paid an official visit to the college as a follow-up on the data submitted by Sister Hilda, president of the college, in July 1967 when application for membership in the AAUW was made.

3 NEW TEACHERS ARE APPOINTED AT SAINT JOSEPH

Gilbert L. Oddo, Ph.D., has been appointed as a full-time member of the Saint Joseph College faculty. It was recently announced by Sister Hilda, Ed.M., college president. He will serve as acting chairman of the Department of Social Studies and will have the rank of associate professor of social studies. Dr. Oddo has been a lecturer in economics at the college since 1956.

Having received his master's and doctoral degrees in political science at Georgetown University, Dr. Oddo is currently engaged in research in this field.

Entering the Division of Natural Sciences and Mathematics as acting head of the division, Joseph A. Solomon, Ph.D., Oakmont, Pa., will be associate professor of chemistry. Dr. Solomon, who received his graduate degrees in chemistry at the Carnegie Institute of Technology, has had four years' experience as an analytical chemist with U. S. Steel and the Gulf corporation.

The Rev. Ladislaus A. Iranyi, S.P., superior of the Priest Fathers' House of Studies, Washington, D. C., will lecture in the Division of Religion and Philosophy. Born in Hungary, Fr. Iranyi received his degrees in European universities. The Gregorian University, Rome, granted Fr. Iranyi his S.T.L. and S.T.D. degrees, both in the field of dogma and patrology. His doctorate was received in 1952 at the Angelicum University, Rome. Fr. Iranyi has taught at Mt. St. Mary's Seminary for the past five years and has been on the faculties of the Georgetown University Institute of Languages and Linguistics, and Georgetown Visitation Junior College, and the Instituto Teologico-Filosofico dei PP. Scolopi, Rome.

STUDENT GIFTS REACH $8,626

Fund-raising projects, inaugurated in February, 1955, as a pre-sequecentennial activity among members of the student body of Saint Joseph's, have netted a total of $8,626 at the close of the 1957-1958 school year.

The fund projects report presented to the president of the college last spring by Miss Margaret Smith, '58, Chevy Chase, Md., showed the following results of the current year's activities, which netted a total of $1,866.

The senior class presented Sister Hilda, college president, with a check for $674. The class had sponsored four activities during the year, a square dance, a Sesqui dance, the senior prom, and an auction sale.

Projects Undertaken

Five projects were undertaken by the junior class, netting $565. Rummage sales, a variety show, the Dixieland concert, and the year-long sale of coffee in the student center comprised the projects of this class.

Sophomore students sponsored a tea dance, a spring social, and a raffle, which brought their total contributions to $274.

February's Mardi Gras dance, a magazine drive, a spring social, penny collection, and sandwich sales gained for the freshmen a total of $353.

General chairman of the Sesqui projects for 1958-1959 will be Miss Ann Dodd, Brooklyn, N. Y., a member of the class of '59.

ECHO FIELD BUILT

Echo Field, which had been originally terraced and gardens, was laid out on Nov. 10, 1900, for its present use. The work was done with one horse dump trucks. The first baseball game was played there June 4, 1902.

2 FOUNDATIONS OFFER GRANTS TO ST. JOSEPH

Saint Joseph College Division of Nursing is the recipient of a grant of $14,982 for the development of a mental health program. Receipt of the grant from the National Institute of Mental Health of the Public Health Service, Department of Health, Education and Welfare, was recently announced by Sister Josephine Cavanagh, M.S.N.E., associate professor of nursing and head of the division at the college.

Plans for the use of the grant include the implementation of the mental health program for student nurses of the college, during their affiliation at Seton Institute, Baltimore, and workshops in mental health.

Raskob Grant

Sister Justa, chairman of the Education Department, has announced the receipt of a $2,000 grant from the Raskob Foundation for Catholic Activities. The grant will be used for the execution of a series of demonstration lessons at the junior and senior high school level by expert critic teachers.

The demonstrations will be conducted at a center in Baltimore and will be attended by Catholic secondary school teachers from Delaware, Pennsylvania, the District of Columbia and Maryland. The purpose of the project is to improve the preparation of present and future junior and senior high school teachers by giving them an opportunity to observe excellent teaching in a functional situation, in the five major fields of academic studies on the secondary school level.

SISTER HILDA TOURS EUROPE

Sister Hilda, Ed.M., president of St. Joseph College, returned last week from a tour of three months in Europe. With the Motherhouse of the Daughters of Charity in Paris as headquarters, Sister toured France, England, Ireland, Belgium, and Italy.

Sister Hilda spent some time at the Motherhouse, where the famous shrine of the Miraculous Medal is located. It was in the chapel of this house that the Blessed Virgin appeared on various occasions to St. Catherine Labouré, who was instrumental in having the miraculous medal struck during the last century. Other shrines in France visited by Sister were Lourdes and Laxieux, the latter known as the birthplace of St. Theresa, the Little Flower.

An audience with His Holiness Pope Pius XII at Castle Gondolfo was the highlight of the tour of Italy. In Belgium Sister attended the Brussels World's Fair and the International Congress of Nurses.

Alumnae Schedule Card Party Sept. 27

Mt. St. Mary's College Opens Its 151st Year With Enrollment Of 661 Students

Msgr. Sheridan Will Open Year With Pontifical Mass Tuesday; 215 Freshmen Have Enrolled

Mount St. Mary's College will begin its 151st academic year Tuesday with the traditional Mass of the Holy Spirit at 8:30 a.m. in the college chapel. The Rt. Rev. Msgr. John L. Sheridan, P.A., president of the college, will celebrate the pontifical mass and the Rt. Rev. Msgr. George D. Mulcahy, newly appointed rector of the Seminary, will deliver the sermon.

A near record enrollment of 661 students, including 215 freshmen, will participate in the exercises. Classes for the 446 upperclassmen will begin following the Mass. Freshman classes will begin on Thursday although they will continue their orientation and placement examinations begun today.

For the first time in its history the college will permit approximately 60 students to live off campus in approved residences. The college received more than 800 applications for the 215 freshman vacancies, closed its applications in April and then reopened its rolls when it became apparent that sufficient rooming facilities could be found nearby to increase the size of the freshman class.

Two new teachers will join the faculty for the fall term. Dean Sprague, Cadillac, Mich., a 1957 honor graduate of Mt. St. Mary's who received his M.A. in 1958 from Niagara U., will join the history department. Anthony J. Semararo, a 1957 Mount graduate who received his LL.B. from Georgetown U. in 1958 and is a member of the District of Columbia bar, will teach economics.

Approximately 50 veterans will be enrolled for the fall term. Heaviest enrollment is in Social Science with 147 upperclassmen majoring in this field; 109 in Business Administration; 81 in Science; 62 in Education; 30 in Arts, and 6 undecided. Freshman tentative enrollment shows a similar election.

Freshmen Back Early
Freshmen returned to the campus for registration and room assignment. Following dinner there was a campus tour for newcomers and an assembly at which they were greeted by Msgr. Sheridan. Rt. Rev. Msgr. William F. Culhane, vice president, briefed freshmen on the history, traditions and ideal of the college and Rev. Paul V. Redmond, dean of freshmen, outlined the disciplinary regulations. A buffet supper followed by a movie and dance was then held at St. Joseph College for the incoming students of both institutions.

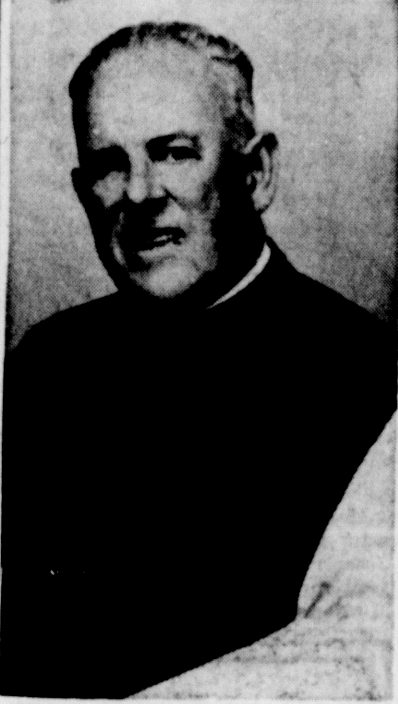

Today freshmen began a battery of tests that lasted through the day and then attended an assembly at which Rev. Francis P. Kearney, dean of studies, outlined the academic regulations; Rev. Joseph B. Termon, C.S.V., director of guidance, the Guidance Program, Dr. John J. Dillon Jr., the athletic and public relations program; and Capt. William Holmberg, USMC, the opportunities for commissions in the Marine Corps.

Annual Retreat
On Tuesday freshmen will resume their testing and orientation program and on Sept. 17 confer with representatives.

CHAPLAIN TO SISTERS
One of Fr. Dubois' first assignments after ordination was as chaplain to the Sisters of Charity at the Hospice des Petites Maisons in Paris. There he acquired the experience and knowledge of the rules of St. Vincent de Paul which he afterwards applied in assisting Mother Seton.

DUBOIS' DEPARTURE
On October 6, 1826, Fr. Dubois left Mount St. Mary's to travel to Baltimore for his consecration as bishop of New York. With him went Rev. Mr. Hughes, later to be his successor as bishop of New York, while John McCloskey, the first American cardinal but then a student at the Mount, bid the two men goodbye.

In 1808 when Fr. Dubois began Mount St. Mary's the population of the U. S. was 7,200,000 with only 11 cities having more than 8,000 citizens.

tives of their major department.

On Sept. 19 the entire student body will begin the annual retreat conducted by Rev. Lucian Gallagher, O.F.M., of St. Francis Church, New York City. Exercises will close Sept. 21.

A breakdown of freshman enrollment shows 63 Pennsylvanians, 41 Marylanders, 35 New Yorkers, 28 New Jerseyites, 13 from District of Columbia, nine from Delaware eight each from Virginia and Connecticut, four from West Virginia, two from Massachusetts, and one each from Florida and Ohio.

This marks the first time that the college has attracted so many Maryland students. Traditionally the Free Staters trail Pennsylvania, New York and New Jersey in enrollment.

Last year's enrollment was 636.

MOUNT REVISES FROSH TESTING

To appraise students by methods that start with their standing in high school runs into a real problem. Standards vary so greatly that the student who barely finished in the top half at one school would have fallen into the lowest quarter at a better school, and some of the good institutions' lower-half graduates would have made the top quarter in the inferior school.

This leaves the college with the task of trying to measure things with one of those imaginary rubber yardsticks invented for the purpose of making some of the phenomena of astrophysics understandable to the layman.

Mount St. Mary's College has re-organized the program for freshman orientation in order that the maximum benefits may be derived from these activities by the administration, the faculty and incoming students.

Use New Tests
The usual orientation on aims and ideals of the Mount, disciplinary and academic regulations, vocational and personal interest tests will be continued. The old battery of the national freshman testing program will be replaced with a new battery of general college ability and achievement tests. The new testing program will include tests in reading, writing, social studies, science and mathematics.

Among the many advantages of this new testing material are its comparability from level to level and from field to field, better norms and better interpretative material. They are power rather than speed tests.

This new organization will assist in guidance to determine the students' scholastic achievements, interests, aptitudes, capabilities and limitations.

Joint College Program Lists Little Singers

During the first semester, the Mount Saint Mary's - Saint Joseph College concert and lecture program will include the following:

October 1 — The Little Singers of Paris.

October 22 — "Hollywood out of Focus," a lecture by the Rev. John L. Bonn, S.J., professor of literary criticism, Fairfield University Graduate School, Connecticut.

November 19 — "Russia, the Country, the People, Their Schools," lecture by Dr. Urban H. Fleege, chairman of the Department of Education, De Paul University, Chicago.

MSGR. MULCAHY IS SIXTH RECTOR OF SEMINARY

The Rt. Rev. Msgr. George D. Mulcahy, newly appointed rector of Mount St. Mary's Seminary, is the sixth rector, so-called, of the nation's second oldest Catholic seminary. From 1808 until 1930 the President of the college was also the rector of the seminary.

Pastor of St. Edward's Church in Shamokin, Pa., since 1950, Msgr. Mulcahy, a native of Sunbury, attended Mount St. Mary's Prep School, College and Seminary. He was ordained for the Harrisburg diocese in 1934 and was for 17 years chancellor of the diocese, having been appointed to that office on January 29, 1936.

After serving for a short time as assistant pastor of Annunciation of the Blessed Virgin Mary Catholic Church of Lancaster, Msgr. Mulcahy was appointed in 1934 as secretary to the late Bishop Philip R. McDevitt. He also served under Bishop Leech.

For seven years he was in charge of St. Joseph's Parish, Mechanicsburg. He was also in charge of St. Lucy's Chapel, Walpoleville, and chaplain of Sylvan Heights Home, Harrisburg. From 1943 to 1948 he held the position of diocesan chaplain of the Boy Scouts of America.

On June 14, 1945, Msgr. Mulcahy was raised by Pope Pius XII to the rank of domestic prelate.

Raised in Rank
He was raised to the rank of domestic prelate by Pope Pius XII in 1945 and was dean of the Shamokin area.

Msgr. Mulcahy succeeds the Rt. Rev. Msgr. William F. Culhane vice president of the college who has served as acting rector of the seminary since the resignation of the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Joseph P. O'Donnell in June, 1957.

The roster of seminary rectors and spiritual directors follows:

Rector
President of the College (1808-1930): Rev. Philip J. Gallagher (1930-1941); Rev. Edward D. O'Connell (1941-February 1942); Rev. Philip J. Gallagher (February to October 1942); Rev. Francis X. Desmond, C.M. (1942-1948); Rt. Rev. Msgr. Joseph P. O'Donnell (1948-1957).

Spiritual Director
Rev. Simon G. Brute, (1812-1815; 1818-1834); Rev. Edward J. Sourin (1834-1837); Rev. Philip H. Borna (1837-1842); Rev. George I. Plautt (1843-1848); Rev. William H. Elder (1848-1857); Rev. William G. McCloskey (1857-1859); Rev. Henry S. McMurdie (1859-1875); Rev. John O'Brien (1875-1880); Rev. James S. Kelly (1881-1883); Rev. Edward F. X. McSweeney (1883-1899); Rev. John C. McGovern (1899-1914); Rev. Philip J. Gallagher (1914-1921); Rev. Joseph J. McAndrew (1922-1941); Vincentian Fathers (1942-1948); Rev. Francis P. McNellis (1949-1954); Rev. Michael D. Forrest M.S.C. (1955-1957).

EISENHOWER HELPS

While in charge of Camp Colt in Gettysburg, Major Dwight D. Eisenhower lent a helping hand to the college by sending his own physicians, Lt. Thomas H. Scott and Lt. Stephen E. Gavin, to aid the college physician in handling the flu epidemic. At the Commencement of 1919 both doctors were awarded the LL.D. degree for their unselfish service.

Bradley Hall, named in honor of the late president of the college, the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Bernard J. Bradley, houses the administration offices, many of the classrooms, and living quarters for some of the freshman class. The building was dedicated in 1921 for use as the Prep School which was discontinued in 1936.

"Our Finest Hour"

When Monsignor Sheridan in his greetings to the President called the 150th graduation exercises "our finest hour," he pretty much summed up the opinion of the more than 3,000 graduates, alumni and friends of the Mountain who attended the ceremonies.

From the opening blare of trumpets announcing the arrival of President and Mrs. Eisenhower to the closing benediction, the graduation was a thrilling spectacle. It is almost impossible to chart the highlights. There were far too many of them. And events moved on from one climax to another with never a hitch.

The gym itself was a picture area decorated from top to bottom with blue bunting that set the stage off perfectly. The famed Marine Band in colorful uniform was in rare form and Fr. Shaum's Glee Club was never in better voice. Indeed, one of the picture moments of the graduation was the broad smile on the faces of President and Mrs. Eisenhower when the choristers turned to face them while they sang the familiar words of one of West Point's traditional numbers.

There was a burst of applause, too, when young Charles E. Hodges, speaking the valedictory for his class, finished his fine speech. And moments later when President Eisenhower called it "the best college valedictory I have ever heard" the applause was long and thunderous—and incidentally well-deserved.

The stage and audience were thronged with important personages from all walks of life. With Msgr. Sheridan and the President and Mrs. Eisenhower were the Most Rev. Francis P. Keough, archbishop of Baltimore, Bishop Jerome D. Sebastian, Bishop George Leech of Harrisburg, numerous domestic prelates from the Mountaineer alumni roster and outstanding laymen. Admiral Bart Hogan was there and General Edward A. Montgomery to swear his graduating son, Edward Jr., into the Marine Corps.

Governor Theodore McKeldin cut short a European trip to be there. Senator and Mrs. J. Glenn Beall were seated on stage with the President and Mamie and the Governor and Mrs. McKeldin. And Mayor Thomas D'Alesandro Jr. came from Baltimore.

Activities ran with dispatch and the graduates took their diplomas and a hearty handshake from the President.

This was truly a day to remember, as indeed each event in the year-long celebration had been. Sunday's honor convocation with affable Robert F. Kennedy, Fr. Adrian Veigle's baccalaureate, the presentation of degrees to Judge Wyatt, Senator Beall—all these are things not easily caught in print.

It was good, too, to have with us many of our neighbors from Gettysburg: General Nevins and General Paul and the representatives of many of the nearby colleges.

Praise for the excellence of the event ran in the lyric vein. But one woman caught it best when she said, "The whole thing gave me goose-pimples." It was that kind of day.

Fr. John Dubois Fled French Revolution To Carve Out An Impressive Career In America

ON Sept. 24, 1958, Mount St. Mary's College will mark the end of its 150th year, for it was on that date that Fr. John Dubois bought 64 acres of land on the mountainside near a cottage that he had erected earlier and began clearing the ground for a log building which was to become Mount St. Mary's College. The structure was erected immediately in front of the present McCaffrey Hall and remained standing until 1901.

Four years after Fr. Dubois founded Mount St. Mary's, on Sept. 28, 1812, the Rev. Simon Brute, the angel guardian of the Mountain, arrived to assist him. Their names and deeds are irrevocably coupled in the ecclesiastical history of this country. Mountaineers now look back on the two priests as the twin founders of the institution for each left a definite mark on the college.

Born In Paris
John Dubois was born in Paris on August 24, 1764, of parents whose wealth was sufficiently ample to afford him the advantages of an excellent education. His father having died when he was quite young, his early training and education fell to the lot of his mother, who died in 1822. After finishing his preliminary studies, he was sent to the College of Louis Le Grand, the best, perhaps, in France at that time although it was no longer under the supervision of the Jesuits. Among his teachers were the Abbe Proyart, a scholar of distinction, and Abbe Delille, in his day one of the most famous French poets. His fellow students were the frantic instigator of the ferocious mobs of Paris, Camille Des Moulins, and the bloodthirsty Robespierre, the soul of the Terror.

Destined at first for the army, Heaven called John Dubois to a better service. He entered the Seminary of St. Magloire, whose students also attended lectures at the Sorbonne, and found kindred spirits among his brother seminarians, particularly in Abbe McCarthy, the famous Jesuit orator, and Cardinal Cheverus, who, before his elevation to that high rank, had been the first bishop of Boston

Sent To Frederick

Fully prepared for active duty as an American missionary, he was appointed by Bishop Carroll to the pastorate of Frederick, Maryland, in 1794. Here he was pastor of all Western Maryland and Virginia and except for Father Badin in Kentucky, who was the first priest ordained in the United States at St. Mary's in Baltimore in 1793, was the only priest between Baltimore and the Mississippi. Add Professional Semester To Offer Intern Experience For Prospective Teachers

The Rev. Joseph B. Tremonti, C.S.V., Ed.D., chairman of the department of Education at Mount St. Mary's College, has announced a revision of the education program featuring a 15-week "professional semester" in senior year. The new program offers a better opportunity for professional preparation and emphasis on social and personal development in accordance with the primary objective of the department to prepare teachers as secondary teachers.

In the academic preparation of the student, the cultural development provided by the courses culminating in the bachelor's degree forms the basis of the intellectual and cultural growth of the student considered a minimum requirement in the training of a secondary school teacher.

During the "professional semester," the student will spend the first nine weeks on the education and psychology courses which comprise the technical training for the profession of teaching. These courses will be taken on a daily basis in order to cover more material in a shorter period than usual.

Observation And Practice Teaching
At the end of the nine-week period the student will be assigned to observation and practice teaching in a neighboring school.

Prior to the "professional semester" the student will have completed an introductory course in education and his teaching major.

Through the intensified program, the department hopes to afford the student the training of full time attendance at the high school: the experience of meeting the problems arising from the arrival and dismissal of students, participation in lunch room supervision, assemblies, faculty meetings and other school functions.

Dr. Tremonti expects the new program to provide a period of internship affording the atmosphere and experiences normally found in actual teaching.

During the period of observation and practice teaching, students will attend weekly seminars to discuss the problems, techniques and procedures of classroom management and other teaching duties. The seminars will enable the student teachers to air their problems, share their experiences and secure guidance from department members. They are expected to be more helpful than the weekly visits ordinarily made by the practice teacher supervisors.

As a result of the program re-vamping the education student must fulfill the following requirements. He must complete all required courses; secure a minimum of 24 hours credit in a teaching course of which 18 hours must be of certifying quality; successfully complete a minimum of 21 semester hours in education courses; complete 90 clock hours of observation and 90 clock hours of practice teaching during the first semester of his senior year; complete the minimum requirements for teacher certification in a major field prior to the beginning of senior year; enroll in the professional semester during the first term of his senior year. In the "professional semester" the student must complete Educational Psychology, Methods and Problems of Secondary Education, Special Methods and one elective course prior to his practice teaching.

During the period of practice teaching and observation, the student must attend the weekly seminars with the staff of the department.

All course programs of students in the department must be approved by the chairman of the education department.

Student Teachers Will Practice In Baltimore

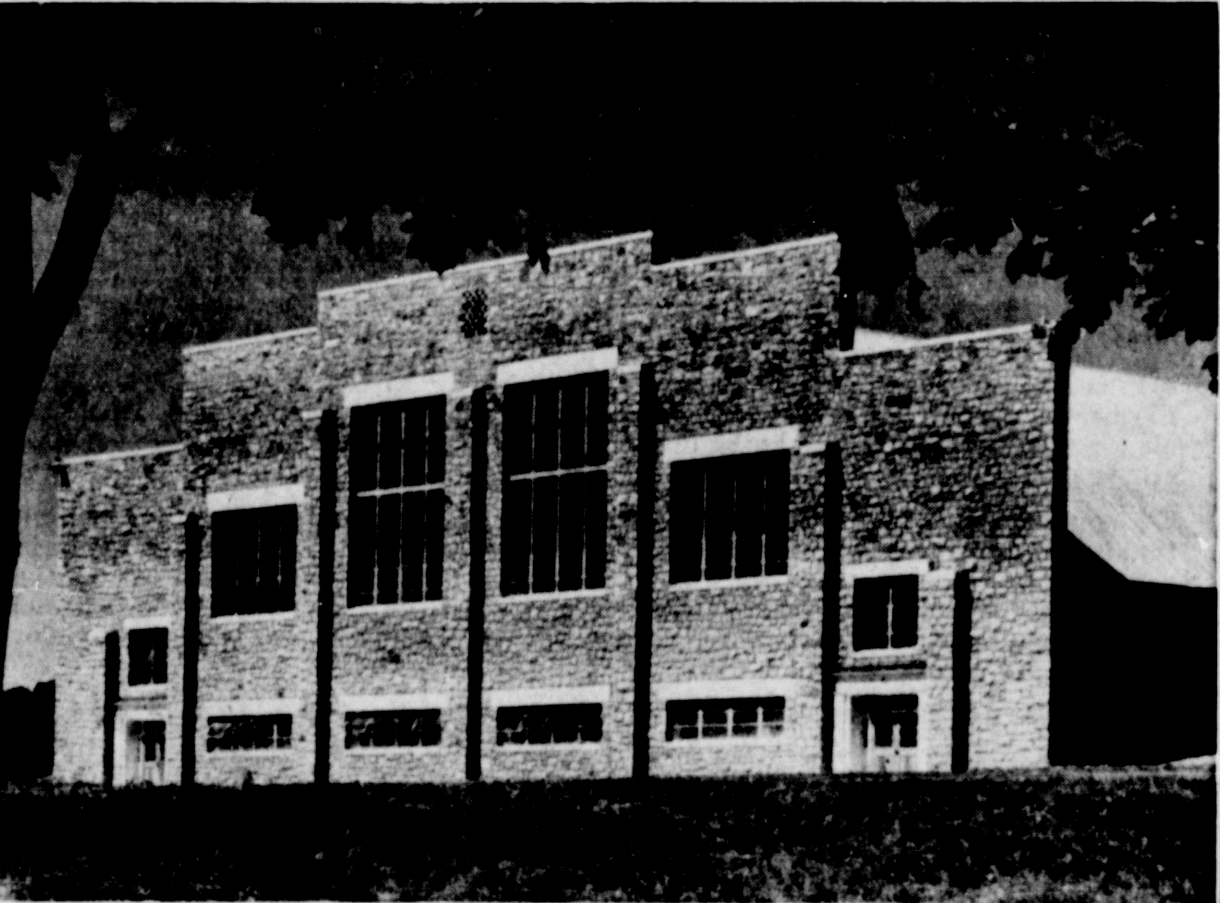

Senior student teachers will leave Oct. 14 for five weeks of teaching experience in the junior and senior high schools of the Baltimore Public School system.

Among the seventeen seniors who are preparing for the teaching field are the Misses Theresa Rybkowski, daughter of Mrs. Regina G. Rybkowski, and Mary Jane Scott, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph H. Scott, both of Emmitsburg.

In the nine junior and senior high schools where the student teachers will fulfill practice teaching requirements the following subjects will be taught: English, French, mathematics, secretarial science, social studies, and home economics.

Here in the Student Activities building, students at St. Joseph carry on many of the events of their social calendar.

Memorial Gymnasium is the home of the Mount St. Mary's eagles whom Coach Jim Phelan hopes to move back into the Ma-on-Dixon championship this year. The gym seats approximately 2,000 spectators and is also the scene of many college dances and June commencement.

Sister Mary Ellen checks an orientation poster in the Student Activities building with Virginia Simon.

FATHER ZALOTAY JOINS FACULTY

The Rev. Joseph Zalotay, S.T.D., Budapest, Hungary, has joined the faculty of Mount St. Mary's Seminary, Emmitsburg, as professor of Scripture. He received his early education in his native city and then entered the diocesan seminary of St. Charles Borromeo at Vac, central Hungary, in 1945 and continued his studies in theology at the University of Vienna, Austria, from 1946-51 as a member of the Pazmaneum, a seminary for all Hungarian dioceses founded and named after Cardinal Pazmany, a 17th century Jesuit and primate of Hungary.

He was ordained priest for the Diocese of Vac in 1951 and began the study of Sacred Scripture at the Pontifical Institute in Rome where he obtained his licentiate and candidatus ad lauream in Sacred Scripture in 1953. He received his doctorate in theology at the University of Vienna in 1954 and continued his studies in Scripture until 1955 when he came to the United States.

Fr. Zalotay has taught Scripture and philosophy, religion and German at St. Gregory's Abbey, Shawnee, Okla.

BRUTE WAS PHYSICIAN

Fr. Brute, the angel of the Mountain, graduated from the medical school of the University of Paris in 1893, taking first honors among 1,100 students. He entered the seminary shortly after graduation.

PRESIDENT SAYS MOUNT SYMBOLIC OF U. S. SPIRIT

In his commencement address to the graduates of the sesqui-centennial class at Mount St. Mary's on June 2, 1958, President Eisenhower noted that what impressed him about the college was its frontier character.

The President said: "Today I fulfill a long-held ambition. Since 1918 when I was assigned command of a camp in Gettysburg, I have been traveling this road just beyond the front of this college, and never before have I had the opportunity to come in and meet its personnel, to see inside — what you feel, the spirit of the people here."

"I am interested in this college for a number of reasons. One of them is some of the things that have been told me about its founding. I hear that Father Dubois came to this country with an introduction from Lafayette. It seems to me there was a certain symbolism that a great champion of freedom collaborated with a great educator such as Father Dubois."

Symbolism Carried On
"This was carried on, this symbolism, in a further adventure in Father Dubois' life when he was taught English by Patrick Henry. Again friendship, traditions of learning and freedom are symbolized in their union."

"Then in the year 1808 when Father Dubois opened the doors of this college, the United States had just closed the doors to the importation of slaves to this country. And again it would seem to me there is a symbolism, if not merely a fortunate coincidence, between these two events."

"Now the most significant of all of these facts of Mount St. Mary's early history was the fact that it was a frontier institute. I am told that Father Dubois built a log cabin and here in the setting of mountain scenery opened his college."

"And from that day it has grown and prospered. He exemplified, and certainly his students exemplified, those qualities that have meant so much to America. Indeed, they have seemed to be characteristic of America — courage, creativity, self-reliance. He was indeed a frontiersman."

FIRST STONE BUILDING

The first stone building at Mount St. Mary's was erected in 1824 by Fr. Dubois. It was three stories high and built at a cost of $16,000. The 95'x50' structure was destroyed shortly after completion by a fire.

Official representative of Saint Joseph College mission unit to the 18th annual national convention of the Catholic Students' Mission Crusade, held at Notre Dame University, Indiana, in August, was Miss Mary Jane Scott, Emmitsburg. Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Harry Scott, Miss Scott is incoming president of the College Blessed Clet Mission unit. Accompanying Miss Scott to the convention were Miss Patricia Donohoe, Scranton, secretary of the Mission unit, and Miss Margaret Dougherty, Wyoming, Pa.

Mary Jane Scott, Emmitsburg, was the official delegate of St. Joseph College at the national convention of the Catholic Students' Mission Crusade.

Over 4,000 college and high school students who are active in their school's mission program attended the convention. The theme of the sessions for the Collegiate Division of the convention was international understanding as a step toward a world apostolate. Keynote speaker was His Excellency, Bishop Leo A. Pursley, D.D., bishop of Fort Wayne, Ind.

Activities in the mission field at Saint Joseph College include, in addition to the lay apostolate work, various fund-raising activities to support home and foreign missions and transportation for the lay apostles to their destination. Among the endeavors in spiritual matters are special emphasis on First Friday devotions, the Church Unity Octave, and prayers for missionaries.

Fr. John Dubois Fled French Revolution To Carve Out An Impressive Career In America

of souls were at this period immense and his energy was reflected in his scattered flock who traveled as much as sixty miles on foot, on horseback or in rustic wagons to have the happiness of assisting at the Holy Sacrifice celebrated with so much primitive simplicity and fervent piety in an upper room of their pastor's humble residence.

When Father Dubois undertook to build the first church in Frederick, he could not engender any enthusiasm among his parishioners. "The means could never be raised," said the future Chief Justice of the United States Supreme Court, Roger Brook Taney whom Father Dubois married on July 6, 1806, and "it would never be completed even if it were, it would never be filled with Catholics." But Father Dubois persevered, built the church, paid for it and lived not only to see it filled, but to see it replaced by a more spacious and splendid edifice on April 26, 1837. Likewise, when he spoke of opening a school for the education of the youth of this section of his vast parish, there were few, if any, who could support his views. Again, after completing the Mountain Church in 1806, trusting in God and doing manual labor as if all depended upon himself, he turned his thoughts to the fulfillment of his great desire to establish a college.

Opens First Seminary

The Catholic Church in the United States was, as yet, almost entirely department on Europe for the education of its missionaries. One of Bishop Carroll's first acts after his consecration in 1790 was to induce the Society of St. Sulpice to open in Baltimore in 1791 the first seminary in the country. Father Dubois' intention in founding Mount St. Mary's in 1808 was to supplement this great work and before he left in 1826 he could count more than forty priests who were partially, if not entirely, indebted to him for their ecclesiastical education. The results of the subsequent one hundred and fifty years give us reason to intensify our tribute of gratitude to this pioneer benefactor to the cause of education and religion.

He was called in 1826 to assume the supervision of the young See of New York. On October 29, 1826, his consecration took place in Baltimore and Charles Carroll of Carrollton, his friend, presented him with his pectoral cross and episcopal ring. But before he left his solicitude for the financial status of his infant institution is evidenced by his signed agreement of September 25 whereby Mount St. Mary's became the diocesan seminary for New York for five years. In 1830 he went to Rome and reported the dire need of a seminary in his diocese to the Propaganda. In his plea for funds there and in France he said: "My idea is to unite a college with the seminary as I did so happily in the Baltimore diocese, so as to defray the expenses of the seminary out of the income of the college." In those days candidates for the priesthood were educated gratis by the seminary. Some of them were able to assist in teaching the younger students and in this way recompensed their benefactor.

His first seminary was opened at Nyack, New York. Rev. John McGerry, the third president of the Mount, was its first president and Rev. John McCloskey, who was ordained from here in 1834, the future Cardinal, was the vice president and professor of philosophy. Then disaster struck his infant seminary as it had struck his first permanent building at the Mount. It was destroyed by fire and there was no insurance. His second attempt was at Lafargeville, three hundred miles from New York, on the property of John LaFarge, father of John F., '53, a prominent artist in New York. This seminary was opened September 20, 1838, with Rev. Michael Guth who had been on the Mount's faculty in 1836-1837, in charge. The location was found to be too remote and the seminarians and teachers were transferred in the fall of 1841 to St. John's College at Fordham.

In New York, besides the able assistance of young men whom he himself had trained, he also had the invaluable help of the Sisters of Charity. As their Superior from 1811-1826, he had approved of their going to New York in 1817 to supervise the orphanage and again in April 1822 to open the first free school. During his tenure their splendid work continued in the asylum, in the school-room and in the hospital and he

Dr. Joseph B. Tremonti, C.S.V., moderator. Others pictured are Mrs. James McNulty, Mrs. Bryon K. Risley, Mrs. William McGrail, Mrs. E. G. Custy, Mrs. Cornelius P. Gallayner, Mrs. G. A. Ludicise, Mrs. E. O. Alexander, Mrs. Joseph O'Connor, Mrs. Laurence E. Enser and Mrs. John C. Gann.

At the head of the avenue leading to St. Joseph College stands the marble statue of the Virgin Most Powerful, guardian of the Valley. In the distance is visible a portion of the St. Vincent de Paul Administration building and the statue of the foundress of the College, Mother Elizabeth Ann Seton.

COLLEGE GUILD AIDS STUDENTS

On October 31, 1955, Baltimore Chapter of Mount St. Mary's College Guild was formed by a small group of women vitally interested in the young men enrolled at the college. The women are mothers of students and alumni, and wives of alumni who are not only concerned about the boys themselves, but also interested in the following: to make the fine name of Mount St. Mary's College better known to the Baltimore area; to form a working link between the college and the areas where the students reside; to publicize and promote the Mount; to establish better relations between parents and school; and to promote affairs and benefits which will aid, financially, the student recreational activities.

An annual card party and fashion show are held to raise funds for this latter purpose.

This guild has prospered during the past three years due to excellent organization, determination, and genuine interest. Other guilds will be formed in the area where the various alumni chapters exist.

Officers for the past year included: Mrs. James E. Vaeth, president; Mrs. James H. O'Connor, vice president; Mrs. C. Warner Price, recording secretary; Mrs. Charles D. Harrington, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Sterling P. Wise, treasurer; Rev. Dr. Joseph Tremonti, C.S.V., moderator.

It was as if a patriot were returning in triumph to his country. When the burdens of directing the growing diocese had become too weighty for his shoulders, a Coadjutor was appointed from among those whom he had educated at the Mount, John Hughes, the first Archbishop of New York and one of the Church's outstanding prelates. He died December 20, 1842, and is buried at the entrance to the old cathedral on Mott St. "At the foot of the Blue Ridge his epitaph is written in living characters that expand and deepen each year. For, though he left no earthly property or wealth to be divided, he has bequeathed to us a precious inheritance, a legacy of inestimable value, to make us bless his memory and be mindful of him in our prayers. He has left us our college and seminary."

Returns From Visit

Only once did he have the opportunity to revisit the scene of his first loves, the Mount and the Valley. He returned in the summer of 1942 and of his visit Dr. McCaffrey says:

"The whole population of the country around poured forth to welcome their benefactor and to ask a Father's blessing from him.

Mount St. Mary's Seminary is the second oldest major Catholic Seminary in the United States having been founded in 1808 by Fr. John Dubois. Approximately 110 seminarians carry on their theological studies here. They represent about 28 different dioceses. Following two years of philosophy, the seminarians undertake four years of theology before ordination. The Rt. Rev. Msgr. George D. Mulcahy is rector of the seminary.

Miss Carol Holtz, Gettysburg, a 1958 St. Joseph graduate, left recently for New Mexico to contribute her services for one year as a parochial school teacher.

Mexico, where she will contribute a year's service as a teacher in the Immaculate Conception School, Alamogordo.

Having received her A.B. degree last June from Saint Joseph College, Miss Holtz volunteered in the Lay Apostolate movement to fill the need for teachers in the parish schools where there are not enough religious for the growing school population. Miss Holtz and her companions will receive no salary, but living quarters and sufficient funds for their board will be furnished by the pastor of the parish in which they are serving. Later this month a sixth volunteer from the Class of 1958 will leave for Dallas, Texas, where she will do a year's volunteer social service work in the Saint Paul Hospital. She is Miss Judith McNally of Rockville, Md.

Others In Apostolate
In addition to Miss Holtz and Miss McNally the following have contributed a year's service in the lay apostolate: The Misses Joyce Biskumer, Staunton, Va.; Angela Rocks, Waynesboro, Pa.; Faith Hawkins, Baltimore, Md.; and Helen Duffy, Wilmington, Del. Saint Joseph's sent its first group of lay apostles to New Mexico last September, when five 1957 graduates volunteered their services.

Miss Katherine Beaver, Wellesley Hills, Mass., is senior class president at St. Joseph's.

ADLER EXPLAINS WHY 'BETH' WILL NOT DIE ON TV

By CHARLES MERCER
NEW YORK (AP) — Composer Richard Adler would have more peace these days if absolutely everybody in the country would understand why he refused to kill a girl named Beth.

Beth is one of the principal characters in Louisa May Alcott's "Little Women," which will be presented on CBS-TV Oct. 16 as a one-hour special television musical written by Adler.

At the conclusion of "Little Women," published in 1868, Beth was alive at the age of 14. The book became so popular—one of the persistent best-sellers of its age—that Miss Alcott wrote a sequel entitled "Good Wives." In the sequel Beth dies at the age of 19. Modern publishers have combined the two books in one volume entitled "Little Women." Thus, all modern readers believe that Beth dies in "Little Women."

Hounded Ever Since
Well, a couple of months ago Adler casually remarked to a columnist that Beth lives in his TV version of "Little Women" and the columnist casually reported the fact. Ever since, people have been hounding Adler and demanding, who does he think he is to tampering with the "classics?" Who is he? First of all, he's one of the country's leading popular composers who, with the late Jerry Ross, composed the scores for "Pajama Game" and "Damn Yankees," among other hit tunes. And he is tampering with the "classics?" Definitely not. He goes about these days armed with a modern one volume edition of Miss Alcott's two works to prove he isn't tampering.

"I decided to risk getting into television," Adler says, "after I'd studied it for a long time and gotten a clue as to how I wanted to go in it. I've found that television absorbs me when its focus is small and came-like on a limited number of characters and limited situations."

"This is the exact opposite of the stage. In writing for the Broadway stage you use a broad canvas and a broad brush in oils. To follow the same analogy, writing for television is most effective when you use water colors in a small frame."

"There's no second team in writing," he said. "It's not like football where you send in the second team to do a job. A writer is always making a first-string effort or else he's not a writer."

PA. POLIO TOTAL SHOWS UPTURN OVER '57 RATE

HARRISBURG (AP) — The unbroken decline in the number of polio cases in Pennsylvania since the introduction of the Salk anti-polio vaccine has ended. The number so far in 1955 already has exceeded last year's figure.

But Dr. I. F. Gratch, chief epidemiologist for the State Health Department, said today there was no cause for alarm except to point out that nine out of 10 cases reported to date involved persons who received no vaccine.

No Significance
"There's a slight trend upwards in all of the United States," he told a newsman. "We have had 42 reported cases so far this year compared to 41 for all of 1954 and the number may increase to about 50 by the end of the year."

But even 50 would be a long cry from the 1,942 cases in 1952. The number dropped dramatically to 796 in 1953, the first year of the anti-polio vaccine. As more persons were vaccinated, the total fell to 231 in 1954 and finally to 41 last year.

"We are really worse off than last year but I confess ignorance as to the cause," said Dr. Gratch. "Actually, there is no statistical significance to the slight increase for this year."

Only 3 Vaccinated
Of the 42 cases reported so far this year, only three of them involved persons who had received the full course of Salk vaccinations. One other case received a single dose.

The county-by-county breakdown of reported cases: Philadelphia 26, Blair 4, Luzerne 3, Warren 2, and 1 each for Westmoreland, Clarion, Indiana, Bedford, Erie, Mercer and Chester.

Dr. Gratch said three of the four Blair County cases were on the suspected list with further clinical examinations still needed to make a final diagnosis.

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES

theater we have is musical comedy. So why shouldn't we have original musical comedy on television? Adapting a Broadway show to television is not my notion of true television."
